

2021-Season pricing orders

QSL is now accepting grower-managed pricing orders for the 2021 Season.

Growers who wish to access this pricing must first ensure that they have both a valid Cane Supply Agreement (CSA) and QSL Marketing Nomination in place for the 2021 Season (please contact your bargaining agent if you are unsure of the current status of your CSA).

QSL has two grower-managed products which eligible growers can use to secure 2021-Season pricing:

The QSL Target Price Pool

This product enables Growers to price their Grower's Economic Interest in sugar (GEI Sugar) during the current season and up to three seasons ahead. The participating Grower sets price targets based on a season-average price calculated using the four ICE 11 futures contracts available each season – July, October, March and May. Growers using this product also have the ability to roll unfilled orders, extending the period they can achieve their price in exchange for the costs associated with transferring the necessary orders to future contracts.

The QSL Individual Futures Contract Pool

This product enables Growers to price their GEI Sugar incrementally during the current season and up to three seasons ahead, with separate pricing decisions for each individual ICE 11 futures position (i.e. July, October, March and May). Pricing is to be completed by mid-April in the year after crushing commences.

Growers are reminded that they should read the relevant QSL Pricing Pool Terms before participating in any QSL pool or pricing product. Please visit the 2019 Season page (available by clicking here) to access the full range of terms applicable to the 2021-Season grower-managed pricing products outlined above. For further information, please contact your local QSL Grower Services Team representative (click here to access their contact details).
