

QSL Weekly Update

Welcome to your weekly overview of key QSL news and information.

New face joins Marketing team

The QSL Marketing Division has welcomed Barb Roberts to the team as a Trading Analyst. Barb is a Brazilian-qualified lawyer who worked in that country's banking sector for nearly a decade before moving to Australia in 2015. She's looking forward to putting her experience with credit risk management, insurance, compliance and agribusiness to good use in her new role with our Marketing, Trading and Risk team. Barb said it was great to be working for a not-for-profit that not only contributed to the success of the Queensland sugar industry, but the regional communities dependent upon it. "I've already met a few of our grower and miller clients during recent visits to the Herbert River, Innisfail and Bundaberg and I'm really looking forward to spending more time out in the field with growers, learning about their pricing needs and priorities, and helping to expand their knowledge of the market and how QSL works on their behalf to maximise their returns."

Code of Conduct review consultation sessions

Bundaberg-district growers are invited to attend a public consultation session for the current review of the Federal Sugar Code of Conduct. Events details are:

WHEN: 3.30pm Monday 10 September

WHERE: The Bundaberg Civic Centre, Supper Room, 190 Bourbong Street, Bundaberg.

To meet workplace health and safety regulations, growers are required to register their interest to attend any of the sessions above. You can do this via emailing sugarcodereview@agriculture.gov.au or calling 02 6272 2285.
