HERE'S 10 THINGS TO KNOW.

FROM  QUEENSLAND FARMERS' FEDERATION

Queensland farmers are constantly adapting to climate variability and with the uncertainties of a changing climate, they must have the tools to bolster their adaptation plans and be able to build greater resilience into their businesses.

Read QFF's Queensland Country Life column regarding a National Drought Policy HERE.

QFF, Cotton Australia, Reaqua Solar Pumping and Constructive Energy, recently undertook a baseline Entry Survey, to identify farmer motivations for participating in a microgrids project, considering current energy literacy, what participant's ideal energy use scenario looked like and their level of risk in joining a microgrid that could be disconnected to the grid. More HERE.

3.

An 64.8 hectare Bundaberg farm producing sugar cane, sweet potato, pumpkin and peanuts has reduced energy consumption by 30 per cent and lowered carbon emissions by 22.3t after implementing the recommendations of their QFF Energy Savers audit. Find out how HERE.

Last week over 120 industry experts and opinion leaders descended on the Brisbane Markets at Rocklea and joined online for the historic Future Fields Summit, to help chart a course for the Queensland fresh produce sector and supply chain over the coming decade. Read more from QFF industry member Growcom HERE.

5.

October was National Safe Work Month, the perfect time to launch the new CANEGROWERS Workplace Health and Safety \(WHS\) Guide for sugarcane farms, designed to help growers assess their businesses and remain vigilant with WHS compliance. Read more HERE.

6.

Discover your new job in the cotton industry! Cotton Australia's growers have exciting jobs available for you now, including a farm manager in St George and farm hands in Goondiwindi. Click HERE to discover more and apply today.

The Rural plant Code of Practice 2004 is currently open for public consultation. Have your say about what changes are necessary to ensure the Code remains fit-for-purpose and supports the agriculture industry to meet legislative obligations and ensure worker safety. Read the Issues Paper and make your submission HERE.

8.

Farmers impacted by recent hail and storm damage can apply for an Individual Disaster Stricken Property (IDSP) declaration to access freight subsidies of up to $5,000, as well as Disaster Assistance loans of up to $250,000 at a concessional interest rate to help fix damaged infrastructure such as fences, sheds and hail netting. Apply HERE.

9.

A drumMUSTER collection is to be held at the Springwell Road Depot in Balonne Shire Council area this Friday, 5 November 2021 from 8am to 12pm. Remember, drums must be triple rinsed and have no chemical residue present (some staining is acceptable). Please also ensure the lids are removed. Details HERE and contact council on 07 4620 8829 to book.

10.

The draft Queensland Organics Strategy 2022–2032 proposes how we can reduce the amount of organic waste that goes to landfill and looks at ways to avoid, reuse and recycle it. Today is the last chance to have your say on organic waste and the targets and actions that are set out in the draft Strategy HERE.

Comments:
Throughput this week was just over 365,000 tonnes. While this was above budget, throughput was limited by unplanned stops at all sites, including power blackouts at Pioneer and Kalamia due to a harvester coming into contact with power lines. The Burdekin mills have now processed over 7M tonnes, which represents more than 90 per cent of the total estimated crop. Based on current crop estimates, forecast factory throughputs and no further rain disruptions, harvesting should be completed between 9 and 11 November on the north bank and by 20 November on the south bank. The average weekly CCS continues to trend below budget at 14.46. The highest CCS sample was 17.2 from a rake of Q208 second ratoon and Q183 second ratoon in the Pioneer and Inkerman Mill area. With less than a month remaining until the forecast end of crushing, please continue to take care around our cane rail network. Use your train brain and always give way to cane trains.

SRA welcomes new directors

Sugar Research Australia (SRA) has announced the appointment of three new directors, including a new chairperson, following its annual general meeting (AGM) in Brisbane.

Rowena McNally was elected as chairperson, alongside incoming directors, Mark Day and Rowley Winten.

Chief Executive Officer Roslyn Baker thanked retiring Chairperson Dr Ron Swindells and outgoing directors Dr Guy Roth and Lee Blackburn for their service.

In Ms Baker's address to the AGM, she also highlighted some exciting research for the year ahead.

Tissue culture orders closing soon

SRA reminds industry they have until 15 November to place their orders for tissue culture for planting in spring 2022. Orders can be made through QCANESelect® on the SRA website.

Seedlings produced from tissue culture are certified free from disease, are DNA tested and maximise industry productivity by allowing rapid adoption of new varieties. For enquiries, please contact Clair Bolton on (07) 3331 3374 or cbolton@sugarresearch.com.au.

The TC Calculator can be used as a tool for estimating how many plantlets to order.

Australia's number one plant priority pest – do you know what it is?

Australia's Chief Plant Protection Officer, Gabrielle Vivian-Smith, has released a series of new videos on National Plant Priority Pests to raise biosecurity awareness about Australia's most unwanted plant pests and diseases.

While not directly related to sugarcane, it is worth being aware of these pests and diseases as part of general biosecurity awareness.

Check out these short videos on Xylella (Australia's number one plant priority pest), brown marmorated stink bug, and khapra beetle on the DAWE website and watch out for new videos in the coming weeks.

Not-for-profit organisations – grants available to help build drought resilience

Community networks have a critical role in helping people prepare for, and live through, times of drought, which is why the Australian Government has invested in the Networks to Build Drought Resistance program.

Calling NQ Dry Tropics farmers who are keen to provide input on new digital tools

The Future Drought Fund's Climate Services for Agriculture program and Drought Resilience Self-Assessment Tool aim to support the Australian agricultural sector and regional communities to build resilience to future drought and climate risks.

Two new tools have been developed to help farmers anticipate what future climate in their region might look like, how it could impact production and what can be done now to prepare.

The tools have been developed with input from farmers in four pilot regions and further feedback is now being sought to ensure the tools are practical.

Growers in the NQ Dry Tropics can provide feedback at an online session on 4 November at 12:30pm AEST. The workshop will involve two 45-minute sessions.

Got workshop waste? Provide input on solutions

In the last eNewsletter we told you about a workshop taking place to discuss dealing with workshop wastes. The organisers have developed a survey to make it easier for people who are interested in providing feedback but may not be able to attend the workshop.

The survey is your chance to influence research for solutions to better manage waste from workshops associated with farming operations.

It will take less than 14 minutes to do the survey which aims to create options that will save you time and $ in the future. The researchers want to hear from farmers and associated organisations to develop solutions that are driven by the sector for the sector.

To complete the survey, follow this link - <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/WorkshopWaste>

The survey is open until 9 November.
