

View this email in your browser

Tuesday, 23 November 2021

Dear David

- Inkerman Mill resumed crushing operations about 2am today and we have processed some of the cane that was harvested on Sunday.
- Analysis of juice samples has indicated the cane is not suitable for sugar production, so we are sending the juice directly to molasses.
- Due to the challenges of processing the stale cane, we will not be processing the remaining cane in bins from Sunday's harvest.
- This cane will be weighed and the CCS determined according to the terms of the Cane Analysis Program.
- Harvesting groups have resumed operations today, cutting burnt cane in paddocks.
- Our operations team is preparing the factory to receive fresh cane for processing later today.
- We will keep you updated.

Best regards

PAUL TURNBULL

Burdekin Regional Operations Manager

---