Dear Dave,

The Winter 2022 edition of SRA's magazine Cane Matters is out now.

Through this quarterly publication we will update readers on SRA's collaborative work across the regions and the industry. In this bumper edition we outline the work undertaken for the first shared industry vision and roadmap: Sugar Plus - fuelling the future of food, energy and fabrications. We also feature interviews with a number of our researchers who presented at our recent field days.

The publication is available to read online in flip page magazine format or in pdf format for download.

If you're a subscriber to the printed version, keep an eye on your mail box for delivery in the coming week.

This graphic promotes the Winter 2022 issue of 'Cane Matters'. It features the magazine cover on the left, which shows two women in SRA polo shirts standing in a field. The main text reads 'Winter 2022 Cane Matters AVAILABLE NOW ONLINE'. Several article thumbnails are displayed, including 'THE TIME'S RIGHT FOR SKA26', 'TALKING VARIETIES IN THE FIELD', 'MEASURING CANE MATURITY AND MAKING INFORMED DECISIONS', and 'MODERNISING PLANT BREEDING WITH DRONES AND DATA SCIENCE'. The SRA logo is in the bottom right corner.

Print copies will also be available at SRA stations and offices.

Happy reading.

We'd love to hear your feedback about the magazine - reach out at sra@sugarresearch.com.au.

Regards,

The SRA communications team
