Comparing Wilmar Call/Target Allocation Account with QSL Shared Pool)*

We believe that all growers should reap the benefits of their hard work. If you use forward pricing, the most important contribution your GEI sugar marketer will make is through the Allocation Account or Shared Pool.

For the 2023 and 2024 seasons, Wilmar's forecast premiums outperform QSL's by an average of 69.5%.

2024 Season Premiums (Forecast as at 31 May 2024)

HIGHER PREMIUMS

The physical sale of sugar results in a premium over and above the AUD sugar swap price derived from the ICE #11 sugar contract. The higher the premium the more money in your pocket.

LOWER CHARGES

Sugar marketing companies charge fees for storage, handling, finance, and administrative activities related to the sale and export of sugar. Therefore, having lower fees will put more money in your pocket.

On average, QSL growers are charged an additional 18% in expenses, for finance and marketing services, even with the Loyalty Bonus taken into account.

MORE MONEY IN YOUR POCKET

By providing our growers with higher premiums and lower charges, Wilmar is able to put more money in your pocket and let you reap the benefits of your hard work.
