

QSL Weekly Update

9 August 2024

Daily market commentary

It's now easier than ever for growers to stay across market movements with QSL's daily market commentary. Introduced to our Daily Price Email and to the Sugar Prices page on our website, these concise summaries outline the key market developments from the previous market session.

2024 Season pricing commitments

Concerned about meeting your pricing commitments? QSL has a range of mechanisms available to help address over-commitment, including washing out positions or rolling pricing forward into the next season.

Growers who are worried about delivering enough sugar to satisfy their 2024 Season orders can contact their local QSL team to discuss the options available to them. Please note, the options available to growers in non-QSL Direct regions are at the discretion of their miller.

More information about QSL's non-delivery options is available by clicking here.

Education | Indian sugar exports

Will India export sugar in the 2024/25 Season?

While there has been no official update, rumours out of India this week indicated that the government may continue to restrict sugar exports to ensure adequate domestic supply and boost ethanol output. Indian export policies and quotas are largely based on domestic supply and demand, ethanol production goals and international market conditions. More information on recent sugar market and currency activity can be found in the latest QSL Market Update, available by clicking here.
